

service message to all our partners

Starting December 13, 2024, it will be an EU legal requirement for all online retailers to provide GPSR information for every product they sell. To ensure you are prepared in good time, we are providing you with the necessary information from Bisgaard.

what is GPSR?

GPSR (General Product Safety Regulation) is an EU legislation designed to ensure that all products sold in the EU meet rigorous safety standards. It mandates that products are safe for consumers during normal and foreseeable use, with special attention to vulnerable groups such as children and the elderly. Manufacturers, importers, and distributors are responsible for ensuring the safety of their products and must take immediate action, including recalls, if safety issues are identified. GPSR also requires transparent communication to consumers regarding potential risks and safety information, fostering a safer market environment.
